SolvEdge Launches Communication and Collaboration Platform

Posted on: Tuesday, 22 December 2009, 10:54 CST

BARTLETT, Ill., Dec. 22 /PRNewswire/ -- SolvEdge, a leading business technology solution provider that help companies streamline business processes and reduce costs, today announced the launch of Digital-CCP (Communication and Collaboration Platform). Digital-CCP improves internal and external business process with the goal of business and operation excellence. The CCP platform takes the "work" out of workflow management when it comes to human resource, marketing and printing processes.

SolvEdge Digital-CCP product helps organizations create additional revenue through 24/7, self-service tools that deliver increased employee productivity, ease of use and efficient task management. OBRIEN manages the sales, marketing and implementation of Digital-CCP to enable companies to better target revenue and cost saving opportunities by applying the Information Technology to improve the bottom line.

"Data plays a vital role in driving a company's productivity," said Gopal Balaraman, CEO of SolvEdge. "Digital-CCP helps convert data to meaningful actionable content and content to knowledge assets." Digital-CCP is deployed to positively impact a single department within an organization or as an enterprise wide solution. The use of Digital-CCP does not require any training or outside consulting.

"It's even more important today that companies have tools to build their revenue, manage spend, and drive more profit," said Kevin O'Brien, CEO and co-founder of OBRIEN. "OBRIEN has been helping the insurance, healthcare, retail and education markets do so for 35 years and the Digital-CCP solution will give our clients a competitive advantage in their markets."
